HEALTHY CRUISING

At P&O Cruises health, safety and well-being of our valued guests, the communities we visit and our loyal crew is a top priority.

Our health and safety practices have always been of the highest standard. As our understanding of COVID-19 is still evolving, we are working closely with some of the best minds in medical science, public health and infectious disease control to understand the challenges posed by the virus and how to best mitigate its spread.

When we resume cruising it will be with enhanced health measures, developed in conjunction with government health authorities, public health experts, local ports and the Cruise Lines International Association. As Australia and the world re-opens social venues, we will continue to learn from their example and adjust our health and safety practices accordingly.

Some of the new safety measures we're considering are below.

NINGALOO KING OF ECLIPSE

DEPARTING FREMANTLE

5 NIGHTS
Exmouth (Scenic Cruising for Solar Eclipse viewing)

2023 17 APR

ONCE IN A LIFETIME

This once-in-a-lifetime 5-night cruise is an opportunity to view a Hybrid Solar Eclipse that will track over the North West Cape of Western Australia, near Exmouth. Pacific Explorer will be in a prime position to catch a glimpse of the first Hybrid Solar Eclipse to be visible from Australia in 1000 years. Also known as the King of Eclipses, our unique vantage point will put us in place to observe the sun, moon and Earth's discs aligning for a significant, one-minute, 16-second event. Exmouth is the only place on mainland Australia where you can view the eclipse. Certainly an event not to be missed!*

The King OF ECLIPSES

This once-in-a-lifetime 5-night cruise coincides with a very special Total Solar Eclipse at 11.27am on 20 April.

 WHILE P&O WILL MAKE EVERY EFFORT TO POSITION THE SHIP IN VIEW OF THE TOTAL SOLAR ECLIPSE, THIS IS NOT GUARANTEED.
